Swiss summer life:

A mountainous makeover

and Extended stay offers at Badrutt's Palace

The Switzerland's Engadine Valley is renowned for its high altitude, clean Alpine lakes and sophisticated luxury resorts.

Founded in 1896, the Badrutt's Palace Hotel reopens its doors twice a year for luxury travelers of today, who seek to indulge in exquisite views of the Lake St. Moritz and glamour in every detail.

History and present melt in this iconic mountain resort, reachable by air via nearby airport or more traditionally in the first class of Glacier Express train, one of the most scenic rail routes in all of Europe and listed on the UNESCO World Heritage list.

Either way, St. Moritz is a must this summer, and Badrutt's Palace Hotel in St. Moritz reopens its doors for the summer season with 40 newly revamped rooms and suites following an extensive renovation in partnership with award-winning New York design studio Champalimaud. The new room and suite categories are also equipped with the latest Dyson air purifiers.

All room bookings come with amenities for an unforgettable alpine stay: from sumptuous breakfast to Rolls Royce pick-up, through to mountain railway passes. Guests don't need to step outside the legendary palace that houses state of the art gym and spa, featuring extraordinary indoor pool, fine dining restaurant, and luxury boutiques including renowned American private jeweller Piranesi at the ground floor of the Palace. A special offer: 'Extended summer stays' seems highly appropriate.

The coming summer season in Badrutt's Palace Hotel will be from June 25th to September 6th 2021, badruttspalace.com

Bulgari celebrates an artful summer in the Swiss Alps with the presentation of UNICUM, abstract works by contemporary Artist Mauro Perucchetti. Aware of the importance of art in our lives brands are exploring new collaborations and ways to make art more accessible to the public following the closure of museums.

Presentation by
Galerie 10 and Bulgari St. Moritz
15 July-15 Aug

The Italian Maison Bulgari was originally founded in Rome in 1884 as a jewellery shop. The brand has today expanded to all corners of the world with mono brand Boutiques and luxury Resorts. This summer Bulgari Boutique located at the world's most elevated high street, Via Serlas 22, will present artworks of London based artist. Via Serlas is the address to some of the most famous names in the world, from Cartier, and Ricci, to Zegna, and now - Perucchetti. Bulgari fine jewellery and watches, will be on display side by side with Perucchetti's work, "UNICUM is a series of wall sculptures which I started in the 90's. With this work I have pushed the boundaries of what is physically possible with my pigmented resin. Every work is hand sculpted first, then cast in pigmented resin and finally painstakingly polished with a process which is time consuming, technically challenging and took me many years to perfect. The result is a series of wall sculptures which are unique and a celebration of the beauty of colour and form.", stated the artist. It is easy to see the Italian sense of aesthetics in the DNA of both Bulgari's and Perucchetti's work. The Italian art of watchmaking is juxtaposed with Perucchetti's ground-breaking art ideas at Via Serlas 22, St. Moritz, from 15 July to 15 August.
